2002 COMMENTS:

Sorry I was so much trouble to locate. My aunt with whom you spoke is amazing at 92 (looks and acts 50) and is sharp as a tack.

I moved to the mountains of western North Carolina in the spring of '98. My goal was to enjoy quiet and easy living since I have Parkinson's Disease. I'm in a relatively small condo within a gated community. All services are provided including meals at the club if one chooses that route.

The farthest north I ever venture these days is to Manhattan where I have friends and family. In the spring of each year, I drive up there to escort my godson's Dalmatian back to "Camp Kenmure" for the summer. Those long drives are becoming less and less feasible, so I'll eventually have to think of another means of transportation for my four legged buddy.

I spend three afternoons a week at a nearby wellness center and have one and one half hours of physical therapy per week at home. Something's working because my doctors are stunned that I'm actually improving although the diagnosis definitely indicates a progressive disorder. I count my many blessings and hope for the best.

Thanks for your efforts to connect with me. Hope everyone has a nice reunion visit.

2012 COMMENTS:

Judy and I just retired at the end of February 2012. I practiced psychiatry in solo private practice for 35 years and Judy was a therapist for a little less time.

A week into freedom and so far I have gotten into some genealogy, discovering for the first time the birthplaces of my paternal grandparents. I'm into golf, paddleball, working out, and cars, with occasional tennis. Judy gardens, plays lots of tennis in addition to paddleball. Who knows what we'll be up to as this year develops.

Zoe lives in Torino, Italy, is a website designer, is married and has 2 young boys.

Lucas lives in Wellesley, MA, works as a financial analyst, is married, and has 2 young boys.

When you put the grandkids together you have 4 boys between the age of 1 1/2 and 4. It's starting to get very interesting.

1992 COMMENTS:

I spent 9 years schooling in Boston then two years in the Public Health Service in San Francisco and then moved in Albany in 1973 and have been here since. We are both in solo private practice. My family moved the summer after graduation to Manchester and I haven't really been back to Concord except passing through.

2012 COMMENTS:

I am unable to attend the 50th reunion because of a family vacation in Maine at that time. I look forward to hearing everyone's news and seeing the photos.

Since June 1966?

After earning my BS at the University of Vermont, I married and moved to Boston where I earned my PhD and completed a postdoc. In 1972 I became a member of the faculty of Boston University School of Medicine where I have remained for the past 40 years. As a Professor in the Department of Anatomy and Neurobiology, I continue to direct the first-year Medical Histology course and serve as an Assistant Dean of Admissions. After 25 years of running my own research program focusing on the effects of advancing age on the nervous system, I am now principally an educator and administrator and my research focuses on pedagogy. I published a Histology Atlas in 2002 (Oxford University Press) which still persists as a valuable resource on the web. Among my colleagues, I am considered a bit of an early-adopter for technology in teaching and find myself on several local and national committees related to learning and medical education. I love what I am doing and thoroughly enjoy my colleagues, my students, and my good health... so retirement is not on the near horizon.

After raising my family and living in Weston, Massachusetts, for 38 years my husband and I moved to our home situated on the rocky coast of Maine; I maintain a convenient pied-a-terre in South Boston, close enough to walk to work during the summer when extended daylight accommodates my 12-hr work days. My husband (second) and I recently celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary and enjoy getting away, when possible, to travel nationally and internationally for business and pleasure. My current hobbies center on cooking and grandchildren. My daughter and her family live in nearby Lexington and so I regularly get to play Grandma to her two fantastic little children.

My son lives with his wife and two children in Durham, NC, so I can visit them less frequently.

I think that just about covers it. Have a wonderful 50th reunion!

After 30 years, I'm still at Wilbers ServiStar!
Enjoying it as greatly as when I first started it at age 18!

Linda and I have been married for the last 10 years. We really appreciate our life together.

My oldest son, Sean, is the manager of Bonks' Auto Body Shop and plans to finish his college studies in the fall.

My step-son, David, is in a doctorate program for criminal justice at the State University of New York in Albany.

My step-daughter, Betsy, is in the honors English program at the University of New Hampshire.

Finally!, my youngest son, Benjamin, keeps me quite busy. He just finished the fourth grade and is very active in sports. He played this year for the All Star basketball team. He keeps me young!

I enjoy boating when I can and I'm very active in the Capital City Rotary Club.

NAME: Leslie R Williams

Deceased: 63
11/22/2007 - Colon Cancer

Obituary:

Dateline: Dunbarton, NH

Leslie Rowell Williams died on Thanksgiving Day, November 22, 2007, at age 63, after a brave, 5-year battle with colon cancer.

She was the precious daughter of Lillian Blake Williams and loving stepdaughter of Gerald Williams, both of Dunbarton, and beloved sister of Jennifer W. Oliver of Goffstown, Shelley I. Westenberg of New York City and Jon B. Williams of Eules, Texas.

At the time of her death, Dr. Williams had been teaching in the Department of Curriculum and Teaching at Teachers College, Columbia for 33 years, with a special interest in multicultural education. She was the advisor and mentor to countless teachers and teacher educators.

Born in Nashua, New Hampshire, Dr. Williams attended the Straw Elementary School in Manchester, then Concord High School and two years of the Advanced Studies Program at St. Paul's School. She went on to receive a B.A. at Wellesley, an M.A.T. at Harvard, and an Ed.D. at Teachers College, Columbia University.

After receiving her B.A., she was VISTA volunteer at a Head Start in Nondalton, Alaska, where she taught Athabaskan Indian children aged 3-6 years. She served as a Head Start teacher and trainer in over nine Tribal Head Start Programs in South Dakota, and was a demonstration teacher at the DARCEE Center of Fairview Tennessee. At Teachers College, she co-founded the Rita Gold Center, a daycare and pre-K lab school for children 3 months to 5 years. She also co-founded the Early Childhood Encyclopedia Project at Teachers College and Hofstra University, which resulted in The Encyclopedia of Early Childhood Education (co-authored with Doris P. Fromberg), and co-founded the All-Day Kindergarten Network. She was responsible for the development of a multicultural preschool curriculum called ALERTA, which was published in 1985, and wrote or co-wrote over 15 books on early childhood education, including Kaleidoscope: A Multicultural Approach for the Primary Classroom. She was a contributor to many scholarly journals, including the Let's Find Out series of Scholastic Publications; was the editor of the Journal of Early Childhood Teacher Education; co- edited the Innovations in Early Childhood Education series for the Greenwood Press; and edited the Early Childhood Education series for the Teachers College Press. She has been a consultant for early care centers and teacher education programs across the globe, including Japan, India, The Netherlands, Norway, Denmark, Russia, Korea, Crete, and Brazil. She was a beacon of light in the lives of her family, friends and colleagues. She inspired everyone she touched. Not a day will go by without our missing her deeply.

A memorial reception will be held at the French & Rising Funeral Home 17 South Mast Street, Goffstown on Thursday November 29 from 4:00 PM to 7:00PM. Dr. Williams was a faithful member of the Congregational Church of Dunbarton, and her funeral service will be held there on Friday, November 30 at 1:00 p.m. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be sent to the scholarship fund for children of the Rita Gold Center, Teachers College. Please contact Isabel Belinkie, Teachers College, Box 98, 525 West 120th Street, New York, NY 10027, Phone (212) 678-3013. 1992 COMMENTS:

Our daughter, Kathleen, is a customer service representative for Blue Cross Blue Shield and is working on a degree in Business Management through Franklin Pierce.

Carrie, our seventeen year old, is president of the Junior Class at Hopkinton High and is trying to decide her future. Teens have much to deal with and decisions come harder for them it seems.

Ben is preparing to become an Eagle Scout. He's looking for a project and is a freshman at Hopkinton.

Rodger is in his 3rd year of running his own plumbing and heating business and is both a Master Plumber and Electrician.

I am in my 20th year of teaching and currently have the title of Assistant Principal of Chichester Central School.

Our lives have been relatively problem free and we have much to be thankful for.

2012 COMMENTS:

I have lived in Bedford, NH for the last 43 years--moved to a condo a year ago that is just a couple miles from my prior home. After losing Brad very suddenly in March of '09, I've tried to simplify my life as I move forward. The condo has helped with that.

I keep very busy. My two grown sons, Kurt and Craig, are both married--Kurt with 4 children, 3 boys and a girl, in Glastonbury, CT, and Craig with 3 little girls in Strafford, NH. I spend a lot of time with them and they bring me much joy--sometimes "tired joy" by the time I get home! I still have a small business selling learn-to-read videos that I developed way back in the '90's. I'm able to do it from home and it doesn't interfere with my golf or my hobby of doll collecting, which I much prefer. I've gotten into skiing again in the past two years, and I'm getting more brave about traveling, too. This spring I spent a couple of weeks tooling around FL on my own, and will have been to Europe on a doll tour by the time you read this.

I'm looking forward to seeing many of you at our 50th reunion. How it could possibly be 50 years since we graduated from Concord High is a mystery to me. Ouch; the truth hurts!

2002 COMMENTS:

"The more things change, the more they stay the same.....".

While many things have inevitably changed for us - we've lost our folks, our sons have grown, graduated from college and are both happily married. We're pretty much the same, doing the same things. We live in the same Bedford (NH) house, Brad is still a broker at UBS Paine Webber in Concord and I still market my reading programs (www.readingvideos.com).

Kurt and Katia live in CT. Kurt works in production for ABC Sports. They're expecting our first grandchild in October - an eagerly awaited event!

Younger son, Craig (29) and his wife, Michelle, live in Strafford, NH on Bow Lake. Craig is a sales rep. for Pfizer.

We enjoy our golf, travel a bit and generally have few complaints.

1992 COMMENTS:

For the past two and a half years I have been involved in creating and marketing a video entitled, You Can Read! which is a basic, self-help program for weak readers and non-readers.

Brad and I have now lived in Bedford for 24 years.

Our older son, Kurt is 21 and will be a senior at Dartmouth in the fall. He's a linebacker on the Dartmouth football team.

Younger son, Craig, is 19 and followed the family footsteps to UNH - third generation! He'll be a sophomore, and is having a great time in college. He even joined Brad's old fraternity (A.T.O.)

Paying the two tuitions is no fun; hope there's a little something left for our (fast approaching) old age!

Obituary:

Bradford H. Thomas had a passion for cooking.

Bradford H. Thomas, 67, died suddenly at home Monday, March 2, 2009.

He was born in Littleton on Jan. 6, 1942, the son of Philip C. Thomas and Marion Hough Thomas. The family first lived in Franconia, then moved to Concord in 1952. Brad graduated from Concord High School in 1960.

Brad was an alumnus of the Whittemore School of Business at the University Of NH, from which he graduated in 1964. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity and the Army ROTC program. He was a captain in the U.S. Army, serving from 1965 to 1968 as a top secret courier.

After his military career, he came back to New Hampshire and lived in Bedford for more than 40 years. He was a stockbroker for Goodbody and Co. and later Robert C. Carr and Co. He branched out into other endeavors for several years as he first owned the Copper Trey Restaurant in Manchester, and later Manchester Music Audio Center. In 1981, he returned to brokerage and was a vice president in investments at Paine Webber and then UBS Financial Services in Concord for 25 years. He was on the board of directors at the Bedford Bank from 1978 to 1985, and was a longtime member of the Manchester Exchange Club. He served on the Economic Development Committee in Bedford.

He was very involved in Bedford youth athletics, assisting in coaching and refereeing. During his sons' athletic careers, he often wielded his video camera and loved filming their football, basketball, hockey and baseball games.

His greatest love was his family. He was the most generous and devoted husband, father, grandfather and brother. Get-togethers were always joyous with family during holidays and with his twin sister on shared birthdays. His never-ending generosity toward others was often appreciated by office staff, landscapers, delivery carriers, handymen and especially his family.

One of his passions was cooking, particularly his unforgettable lobster bisque and meticulous and savory grilling techniques. His collection of cookbooks would be the envy of any chef, and were well-marked with all his favorite recipes. He was a proud member of the Concord Country Club and could be seen every Wednesday afternoon on the links. During the summers, he spent many hours around his pool and was happy each spring when he could declare it "pristine." He loved fishing with his sons and nephew, and enjoyed attending University of New Hampshire football and hockey games with his friends and family.

He is survived by the lights of his life - his loving wife of 42 years, Brenda Woodfin Thomas of Bedford, whom he had known for more than 50 years; his two sons, Kurt Thomas and his wife, Katia, of Glastonbury, Conn., and Craig Thomas and his wife, Michelle, of Strafford; his twin sister, Carol Wheeler, of Burlington, Vt.; his grandsons, Jake, Derek and Tanner Thomas of Glastonbury, Conn.; his granddaughters, Courtney and Amanda Thomas of Strafford; and cousins, nieces and nephews.
